Hello, LINE Webtoon fans,

This is the writer of Noblesse, Jeho Son.

It's my deepest regret to tell you readers of this break announcement.
The illustrator of Noblesse, Kwangsoo Lee has been suffering from constant chest pain and dyspnoea so that he had to take several medical examinations for past couple months.

Although there wasn't any physical symptoms stood out, he's been told that he is suffering from a panic disorder.

He kept up with us while paralleling his psychotherapy but he wasn't able to recover from his illness.
Also, his symptoms started to strike often lately which resulted in another recess of Noblesse few weeks ago.

He's been recommended by his physician to leave his work for a while and focus on his treatment, but Noblesse couldn't take more breaks since we each already had our breaks due to our personal surgical procedure and we truly wished to keep it going this year.

By taking regular check ups and medical treatment, we hoped for the best, however, that wasn't enough.
It was quite impossible for us to parallel both of them.

The nature of panic disorder is that symptoms strike so suddenly and become fatal.
For these couple months, Kwangsoo's seizure were getting worse and frequent.
After discussing with the editors, we decided to inform you that we have no choice but to take another recess for a while.
Once again, we are deeply sorry.

It is the most hurtful that we had to disappoint all of the readers, we will try our best to return to you in the best conditions.

We hereby apologize to you once again.

Thank you,
Jeho Son